

SYNOPSIS

Art and Cash

Ware Kunst

Art and Cash takes a look behind the scenes of the art world - who makes the prices, who is willing to pay them, and how a global opinion cartel is able to define a list of roughly three-dozen artists whose works will be displayed, discussed, bought, and sold. Important personalities from the art world like Tobias Meyer of Sotheby's, Jeff Koons, the gallerist Gerd Harry Lybke, the art consultant Simon de Pury and the Russian collector Stella Kay, speak openly for the first time about the rules of the game between art dealers, auctioneers, collectors, curators and festival organizers.
