A Polish Wedding

Polnische Hochzeit

A freedom fighter in disguise, his uncle with a dubious Bluebeard complex who is already planning his sixth wedding, to an even younger woman of course, a highly creative and strong minded neighbour, known as «wildcat» and just as feared, and guests ready to party all come together in this bold and witty operetta of trials and tribulations by Joseph Beer, to celebrate the wedding of the year, maybe even of the century. Joseph Beer's music moves between operetta and musical, between jazz, klezmer and waltz - high drama combined with touching romance. Sebastian Ritschel's production of this firework of an operetta is bringing its sparks to the Graz Opera for the first time.
