

SYNOPSIS

Europe - Work Until You Drop

Europa - Arbeiten bis zum Umfallen

Europeans are living ever longer, whilst pension funds are becoming increasingly empty. In future, a well-deserved retirement at about 60 years old will no longer be possible. Right across the EU, the retirement age is gradually increasing - in Germany to 67 years of age, in the United Kingdom even to 70. Many countries are considering linking the retirement age to rising life expectancy - in which case even making the pensionable age 67 will no longer be enough. Whilst some work into their old age of their own free will, others work to supplement their meagre pensions. "Europe - Work Until You Drop" takes a trip through a Europe undergoing demographic change and visits senior citizens who are still working at an advanced age - between old age poverty and a quest for meaning.

Year: 2014

Run-Time: 1 x 30 min.

Directed by Christa Hofmann

ORF

Available worldwide

Languages: German (ORIGINAL) , English (DUBBED)

Format: 16:9

HD UT

» SCREEN ONLINE