EU: Right-Wing Populists on the Rise

EU - Rechtspopulisten auf dem Vormarsch

Never before has the European Union been put to the test to this year's extent, in which a country, Great Britain, is leaving the Union and in which anti-EU forces will prospectively be strengthened in the upcoming EU elections. From Hungary to Italy, from France to Poland, from Germany to Sweden, right-wing populist movements are gaining ground. Nationalistic and racist tendencies are rising. In times of corruption, economic slowdown and refugee crisis, the European Union is under great pressure like never before.
