

SYNOPSIS

Life is a Drama - Drama for Life

Das Leben - Ein Theater

It shows the pensioners' way of how to cope with this period of life. Some of the problems of living together seem not to have changed even 60 years later and yet all of them would still love to be on stage ... and competition amongst them still exists. The protagonists themselves narrate most of the film and play their own roles, giving an intimate and touching insight into their living.
