

SYNOPSIS

Swapping and Sharing - The Trend for Living Without Money

Tauschen und Teilen - Der Trend zum Leben ohne Geld

Particularly in times of financial crisis and increasingly unsatisfactory working conditions, some people have a growing desire to experience other ways of life. A new culture of mutual give and take is coming into being under the generic title of the «Commons Movement». Self-harvest projects, couch surfing and local exchange systems with their own currencies are no longer purely a niche phenomenon. The «Longo Mai» cooperative is one of the few societal experiments from the '68 generation and is soon to celebrate 40 years of existence. «Swapping & Sharing» portrays initiatives that put alternatives to the capitalist model of society to the test.
